Dent Is Supervisor In Boundary Shuffle

It's goodby Boney—hello Dent for residents of this area.

Robert C. Dent, veteran Supervisor of the 3rd District will soon be lifting this area from the 2nd Supervisorial District.

Henry Boney's 2nd District will be shriveled by the amount of the loss to Dent, plus the loss of the City of National City. National City will be attached to DeGraff Austin's 4th District.

All of the changes are unofficial following a 4-1 vote for the changes by the supervisors Tuesday. DeGraff Austin cast the negative vote.

County counsel Bert McLees was directed to prepare an ordinance on the boundary changes for formal adoption by the board.

Thirty days after the ordinance is adopted the new boundaries will become official.

Spring Valley, Casa de Oro, Lemon Grove ,and La Presa will become part of Dent's extended 2nd district. His district is generally west from College Grove.

The boundary changes will give each of the supervisors about 20 per cent of the total county population.

Boney's District covers nearly 28 per cent of the county population which is in the east and south sections. Dent has 15.7 per cent which includes East San Diego, North Park, Lake Murray and Allied Gardens.

Austin, who will get National City, has 16.6 per cent which includes Downtown, Mission Hills, Old Town and South San Diego.

Gibson's 1st District which stretches from Pt. Loma t: La Jolla, with Clairemont, ha: 20.1 per cent of the popula tion. Robert Cozen's 5th dis trict covers the sprawling North County, has 19.9.

Both Dent and Boney have made numerous appearance. in the east county discussing the proposed changeover. Bon ey has become immensely pop ular in the east county area since entering the supervisor ous' race. His capable explan ations and his introductions of Dent to his district has averted resistance to the plan.

Conversely, Nationaly City and Chula Vista officials opposed the transfer of Boney', area to Austin's. They demanded, and got, a 30 day delay so that an alternate plan could be proposed. Two alternate plas were rejected by the supervisors and the changeover plan was approved Tuesday

Dent moved for the adoption of the plan and it was seconded by Gibson.

Federal 'Aid' Costs 900 Jobs

It's the present administration in action again.

This time the "action" is in Gilroy, California.

The "action" is that of the Office of Economic Opportunity, one of the administration's present "help" programs.

The "help' was so usual that it excited California Representative Charles S. Gubser to file a loud and long complaint about it.

Gilroy has an employment problem because of a seasonal employment situation leaving so many citizens without work.

Swift and Company sought to put a packing plant which would create about 900 badly needed jobs in Gilroy.

A better sewage facility was necessary to handle the plant and town officials applied for a Federal sewerage construction grant through the Economic Development Administration.

There was a period of several months of inactivity, and finally, the administration turned Gilroy down.

Swift abandoned plans for the plant.

Congressman Gubser visited Gilroy to commiserate with the hapless community. But he found that the area was already getting "aid".

The Office of Economic Opportunity had made a grant of $260,800 for a Self Help Corps Center 12 miles from Gilroy.

The Center had already developed a reputation of "agitation academy" and Gubser found photographs of Red Chinese Defense Minister Lin Pao displayed prominently on the premises.

On the walls were such slogans as "We're going to tear this country up then build it back brick by brick until it is a fit place for human beings."

The Center, at that time, was graduating 34 "community service representatives". It has since gotten another grant of $109,000 to give 30 of these "graduates" additional training.

That's $11,000 each the taxpayer is footing for each of these guys.

Their chief function is to organize welfare recipients.

For what? For teaching welfare recipients to secure more "rights."

Gubser questions the Johnson Administrations desire to get at the causes of poverty and to give people the dignity

Kindergarten 'Roundup' Ready; Deadline Date is Dec.2, 1962

Spring kindergarten "round-up" time in Lemon Grove School District begins next week and runs through the middle of May.

Registration of children eligible to attend kindergarten in the fall of 1967 assures parents that pupils will be enrolled and it also assists the district in adapted schedules and boundary lines to meet the ever-varying numbers of boys and girls entering classes for the first time.

To meet minimum requirements set by California law, a child must have been born on or before December 2, 1962, to qualify as a student in September, 1967.

In addition, parents seeking to register children must present verifications of dates of birth plus dates of three polio immunizations, either Salk or oral vaccines.

The following dates indicate times at the six elementary schools for registration:

Golden Avenue — Monday, May 8

Monterey Heights — Tuesday, May 9

Mount Vernon — Wednesday, May 10

San Altos — Thursday, May 11

Vista La Mesa — Monday, May 15

San Miguel — Friday, May 19

Nurses will be on duty during these days to interview parents regarding importance of preschool medical and dental examinations, aspects of the vision and hearing screening programs, history of children's diseases, and other phases of the school's health program.

Vision and hearing screening dates at the schools are set for the month of June. These dates will be available to parents at the times of registrations.

Persons unable to register kindergarteners on the days specified may phone their elementary schools to determine when they may comply with the spring registrations.

Free Booklet Ready

A 54-page booklet containing important facts about the cities and communities in San Diego County is now available, free of charge, at Security First National Bank's College Grove Branch, Edward L. Jones, Manager said.

The booklet was prepared as a service for new families in the area and for those contemplating making this area their home. In addition, it contains interesting facts and figures for those established residents who wish to learn more about communities in San Diego County.

Featuring maps and illustrations, the community guide's contents include home prices, tax rates, educational facilities, hospitals, cultural and recreational facilities, freeways and shopping centers, Jones said.

Urban Development Aid Eyed For Large Lemon Grove Area

A public meeting at which the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) will discuss upgrading a large segment of Lemon Grove, will be held Friday, May 19, in the San Miguel Elementary school auditorium.

Walter T. Slattery, Area Renewal Coordinator, Area III, Department of Housing and Urban Development, will come here from Los Angeles to make the presentation.

Mrs. Lillian Collete, a Lemon Grove resident who is present president of the CCPT, has accepted temporary chairmanship of the first meeting.

In the HUD program, a part or the whole of a community is brought up to a uniform code level with the Federal government lending the money on a three per cent, twenty year loan. A similar project is under way in Imperial Beach.

Regardless of the level of improvement, all buildings within the HUD district must conform to the minimum standards set by HUD officials and neighborhood residents, it was said.

• Sidewalks and curbs are usually the first improvements, Slattery said. Street lights and road ailgnment will probably be considered, too, he said.

HUD money may be borrowed by home owners to repair and refurbish homes if a HUD district is formed. These loans, as the others, are at three per cent. If the improvement and mortgage is $14,000 or less, it is possible that HUD will replace the obligation with a three per cent, twenty year loan.

At the May 19 meeting, a proposal will be offered to include the area between Broadway and San Miguel, and from Main st. to the City of San Diego limit.

There are approximately 2,000 homes in the district being considered. It is expected that at least 1,000 people from these homes will attend the May 19 meeting.

A committee will be chosen from residents of the area to be improved, Slattery said.

In the event of improvement, the work will be handled like a 1911 Improvement Act. A simple majority of the residents of the improvement area will be required to approve it to put the plan into effect.

Slattery said that it is only by upgrading an entire area that deterioration of established communities can be stopped.

"It's fine to improve a single home but one improvement doesn't do the job. When all home are upgraded, pride of community returns," he said.

He said that few people in Lemon Grove would buy their own home if they were in the market for a house. "Lemon Grove, he indicated, is no different from hundreds of other such communities. Help must be given to all homes, at the same level, and at the same time, in order to stop residential rot, he indicated.

Bill May Provide S.D. Night Courts

The Assembly Judicial Committee has given a unanimous recommendation for a do pass for AB815, Assemblyman Wadie P. Deddeh's proposed legislation for a San Diego night court.

"A night court for San Diego means a working man doesn't have to lose a day's wages to plead his case," Deddeh said. "This helps to guarantee that every man can have his day in court," the assemblyman added.

If this legislation becomes law, San Diego will be be the third county in the state to have a night court. At present Los Angeles and Orange counties have night courts.

"I am very happy that my bill was passed out of committee and I anticipate that it will be signed by the governor," Deddeh said.

Brokerage House Donates $25,000 To SD Zoo

A grant of $25,000 was given to the San Diego Zoo recently by the Charles E. Merrill Trust, of Ithaca, New York.

A check for that amount was presented to A. Eugene Trepte, president of the Zoological Society, by Kenneth R. Rearwin, vice-president of the local office of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc., and Robert L. Sheeran, manager of the firm's La Jolla office.

The late Charles E. Merrill was a partner in the well-known stock brokerage company. A trust was established in his name, a portion of which goes annually to charitable and non-profit organizations. It is administered by a five-man board of trustees, headed by Charles E. Merrill, Jr.

Rearwin said the trustees have recently become interested in making grants to nationally-famous zoological gardens.

He said the $25,000 approved for the San Diego Zoo was to be used in the institution's continuing conservation program for animals facing extinction.

It is the third grant, Rearwin explained, issued by the trust in the San Diego area.

Rural parcel post was started in 1919.

Army Raises Rank Limit

The United States Army's most current enlistment program encourages former soldiers to come back on active duty at higher grades than previously authorized.

Pin-pointing some of the advantages former soldiers would benefit from by getting back in uniform, Sergeant Santos local Army Recruiter in El Cajon said: "A recent change in policy guarantees these individual grade near their old ranks, or in the case if veterans from other services, a grade based on Army occupational requirements at time of enlistment, and normally no higher than one grade lower than the grade in which last separated from active duty."

Under the old policy, the highest grade soldiers of certain skills and grades could obtain if they returned after staying out more than 90 days was sergeant or specialist fifth class. And if they stayed out more than 24 months they could come back a Private (E-2). Now a soldier is permitted to stay out as little as 91 days and as long as two years and return to active duty at a grade only one step lower than that formerly held.

The announcement emphasized the Army's need for mature and experienced men, pointing out that the return to active duty of prior service personnel would be beneficial to the individual and the Army.

and pride in holding a job.

"Perhaps they (the Administration) are interested duly in building bureaus and political bases of power, top heavy with bureaucrats who train people to agitate rather than work," Gubser said.

Under a program such as this, it is apparent that one of the functions of the Gilroy project is to train a corps of agitators to tell the unfortunate migrant worker near Gilroy how bad their lot is—and how private enterprise deprived them of 900 well-paying jobs.

Port Board Approves Deep Water Terminal

The San Diego Unified Port District has cleared the way for construction of a deep water cargo terminal that will meet the immediate demands of the Port's rapidly-growing maritime trade.

The Board of Port Commissioners voted for the award of a $3.7 million contract to the Guy F. Atkinson Co. of San Francisco to build the first phase of a new terminal, to be located at the foot of 24th street on National City's shoreline.

C. R. Campbell, Board chairman, said the contract also must receive approval of the Economic Development Administration, which is providing half of the estimated $8 million needed to construct the marine terminal and an adjoining tideland industrial site. Both the terminal and industrial site will be accessible to shipping, and both should be ready for use within 18 months. He said construction of the terminal should be underway before the end of April, and the industrial site should be under construction by July.

First-Phase Construction

First-phase construction of the marine terminal basically will develop the northern section, providing for three ship berths at about 1,900 lineal feet of apron wharf. Paving, utilities, railroad trackage, floodlighting and other facilities will be constructed.

First cargo for the new terminal will be lumber and scrap metal to ease the cargo pressure now being exerted on the Port's Tenth Avenue Marine Terminal, operational since 1958. The Tenth Avenue terminal, a 96-acre facility on San Diego's shoreline, has more than one million square feet of covered storage, a high speed bulk loader and other facilities, but has had to add temporary storage sheds to meet the port's fast trade expansion requiremens.

17 LG-SV Keglers Try For Europe

Bowlers from all over San Diego will try their talents Saturday at Lemon Grove's Brunswick Bowlero, 7035 Broadway, in an attempt to win in the Second Annual Bow Your Way to Europe Tournament, sponsored by the Brunswick Corporation.

Thirteen bowlers from Lemon Grove, four from Spring Valley and two from La Mesa will be among the 50-plus competitors that will try for a free trip to Washington, D.C., and a transistor radio, plus the chance at the one-week trip to Europe to be decided at the national finals in the nation's capital May 28-30.

One man and one woman will be chosen from two groups of bowlers, one beginning at 10 a.m. and the other at 6 p.m., attempting to gain the nationals. The trip to Washintgon, D.C., will cover three days with all expenses paid.

Fred Stroh, manager of the local lanes, said the public is invited to attend the "roll-offs" free of charge. Each competitor will bowl three games across six lanes with the man and woman knocking down the most pins over their average in a single game being declared local champions and representing Brunswick Bowlero of Lemon Grove in the nationals.

"Our two champions will compete against 354 bowlers from all over the United States and Canada for a chance at the big prize—the all-expense paid trip to Europe," Stroh added. Each Brunswick-operated center is sending two local champions to the final "bowl-offs."

At press-time, 47 bowlers had been decided for the local competition. The remaining participants were to have been selected late Wednsday night, incrasing the field to over 50.

Saturday's participants qualified for the local roll-offs by winning the High Game of the Month award at Brunswick Bowlero during the past year. Each qualified league bowler in this center was placed in one of two classes: men, 150 and under and 151 and over, and women, 125 and under and 126 and over. Admission Suspension Lifted At San Diego State

A three mon-old suspension on admission of new students for the Fall semester at San Diego State was lifted recently by Acting President Donald R. Watson.

Watson said that applications were now being screened and that prospective students would be mailed notices of their acceptance as rapidly as possible.

The hold on admissions was declared January 11 by Dr. Glenn S. Dumke, Chancellor of the California State Colleges. It applied to all 18 campuses of the state college system.

Dumke announced the hold at a time when State College system-wide budget limitations were being proposed by Governor Ronlad Reagan. The limitations, Dumke said, at that time, made it doubtful that the colleges could recruit enough new faculty members to accommodate next fall's anticipated enrollment increases.

On March 14 Dumke announced that the proposed budget cuts had been virtually eliminated by the Governor. He said the admission freeze was to be lifted, providing competent faculty could still be hired to staff the classrooms.

STUDENT AIDE — Miss Laurie Larabee from Monte Vista High School, checks visual perception of Tracy Graham and Alan Schmidt, children in Mrs. Ruby Becker's Casa de Oro School kindergarten, as they work with a number project.

Student Aides Placed In LM-SV Elementary Posts

Students from Grossmont District high schools are serving as student aides in La Mesa-Spring Valley elementary schools. Casa de Oro School in Spring Valley is one of the participating schools.

Vince Toth, Casa de Oro principal, said his school is in the program because the high school student aides assist teachers in providing additional instructional help for pupils and the young adults themselves benefit from the experience.

Assistance given by the aides varies, Toth said. Assigned to work with regular classroom teachers they prepare materials, supervise small groups, help individual students and assist with routine class needs. Students aide reponsibilities are geared to their individual talents, interests, initiative and experience.

Toth said that Casa de Oro teachers are enthusiastic about this program. Mrs. Susan Taylor, fifth-grade teacher, reported that Miss Mary Ellen Munyon, a student aide from Monte Vista High School, supervised the production of a class play and assisted children with the preparation of autobiographies. Mrs. Taylor said that with the help of the aides youngsters can be given more individual assistance and additional class projects can be undertaken.

Miss Kathy Harper, also from Monte Vista High School, helps children in Mrs. Joann Doud's first-grade class with their written work and with music instruction. Miss Laurie Larabee has assisted Mrs. Ruby Becker, kindergarten teacher, check youngsters' visual perception by watching the children make designs out of colored block.

Most student aides have tentative plans to enter the teaching profession while a few consider the experience to be exploratory in nature, Toth said.

One afternoon a week, as part of her business training course at Monte Vista, Miss Yvonne Melega reports to Casa de Oro for on-the-job training with Mrs. Flo Sevick, school secretary. As time permits, Miss Melega also does clerical work for teachers.

Toth said Mrs. Cynthia Martin, counselor, coordinates the program for Monte Vista High School.

Congratullations to Nila Repard and Dave Cowan. They were awarded an excellen rating at the San Diego State College One Act Play Festiva for Mount Miguel's entry "Mooney's Kids Don't Cry."

This week has been termed Girls' League Week. Each day has given Matadors something new to experiment with. Monday was "Mr. Irresistible Day' with the girls unable to talk to any member of the male sex; Tuesday found many of the Matadors dressed for "Little Boy and Little Girl Day;' Wednesday was "Shades Day"; today there will be a tricycle race around the quad, tomorrow will be the traditional dress-up day. It promises to be a fun-packed week.

Friday, April 21, found the Mount Miguel speech coach in a different role. Mr. Robert Sanders judged the speech finals for Mr. Don Amundson's second period sophomore English class. Congratulations to Jamee MacDonald, Craig Sandling, Shirlene Travers, and Gary Wokuluk for fifth place; Mike Tyer for fourth place; John Woodward, third place winner; Debbie Favorite for second place; and Lynn Hammerschmidt for first place.

Mount Miguel's 1967 Leadership Conference was "one of the most successful conferences Mount Miguel has ever seen." All seminars were conducted with the utmost seriousness and concern, and, as a result, many important ideas were accomplished. After the serious business was completed, the boy delegates really got down to their fun; specifically, down to the river to dunk as many girls as they could before it was time to come home. A lot girls went home with damp clothes, and for that matter, so did many of the boys.

Coming up are Mount Miguel's "Fabulous Fiesta 1967" and the senior prom, "Moonlight and Roses."

Helix High's Highland Notes

by Shauna McGregor

The 16th Ammendment may have freed slaves in Abraham Lincoln's day, but slavery came back to Helix last Friday.

The slaves were Highland boys and were "sold" to Helix lassies at an auction held Thursday after school. The Senior Class activity provided funds and fun as the slaves obeyed their masters' commands. They did everything from polishing shoes to carrying stuffed animals around campus for their "owners."

The Bali Hai was the setting for Helix's leadership banquet held last month. All newly elected, old officers and cheerleaders attended the gala affair.

Learning the difference between mashies and brassies has become a new experience for senior girls taking up golf in gym classes. The different types of irons as well as stance, grip and swing are among the things being learned. It's a good thing we use plastic golf balls because they really have a way of flying through the air and landing in the most unexpected places!

A special assebly sponsored by the La Mesa Exchange Club and put on by representatives of the Marine Corp was held last week. The history of our country's flag was told in a most patriotic and inspiring presentation. The Exchange Club also presented Helix with reproductions of some valuable documents.

Conclave Calls CCPT Delegates

Plans are being made by PTA delegates representing Foothills Secondary Council, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, to attend the May 10-12 state convention in Los Angeles.

Accompanying Mrs. R. J. Collette, president-elect of Foothills Council, will be the following unit delegates: Mmes. Walter Kimzey and Don Hunsaker, Santana High PTA; Ronald Duncan, Mt. Hornbrook, Spring Valley Jr. High PTA. They will be housed at the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles, leaving San Diego by chartered bus on May 9.

HANDING OVER THE KEYS to Dawson Motors, Broadway, Lemon Grove, is Bill Dawson, former owner. Noel Hanson purchased the lot after working for over two years for Pearson Ford and a year for Spears (now Pat Grace) Ford.

NEW ADDITION to the Lemon Grove area is Clay Lowe, now manager and designer at the Lemon Grove Florist. Lowe is formerly of San Francisco and has lived in the San Diego area about a year. In addition to his duties as manager, personnel director and designer, he is also a floral interior designer.

Zoltan Rozsnyai Heads San Diego Symphony

Zoltan Rozsnyai, Hungarian born conductor, was named to the post of Music Director and Conductor of the San Diego Symphony Orchestra. Michael Ibs Gonzalez, president of the Symphony Association, announced that the search for a successor to Earl Bernard Murray had ended with the decision of the Board of Directors to offer the appointment to Rozsnyai, 41, who currently lives in New York City at 185 West End Avenue.

Mr. Rozsnyai guest conducted the San Diego Orchestra twice during the 1966-1967 season.

Meeting for the final time on Monday, April 24, the Committee recommended Roszsnyai and this recommendation was submitted to a special meeting of the full Board of Directors held in the Board Room of the San Diego Trust and Savings Bank. The action of the Board in approving the recommendation was unanimous, as was the decision of the Conductor Selection Committee earlier.

Currently Mr. Rozsnyai occupies two podiums, commuting between his home in New York City and the Utica (New York) Symphony and the Cleveland Philharmonic Orchestra. In coming to San Diego Mr. Rozsnyai is relinquishing these posts. Mr. Rozsnyai has a contract with Columbia Masterworks under which he is committed to several recording sessions each year. He will complete the next one of these sessions in Europe just prior to coming to San Diego in the fall.

Mr. Rozsnyai is married and has a 13 year old daughter. Mrs. Rozsnyai and their daughter, Monica Christina, will come to San Diego with him approximately September 1, 1967. Mrs. Rozsnyai is an architect with a successfufl European practice. The family will locate in San Diego as permanent residents.

Mr. Rozsnyai fled his native Hungary during the 1956 rebellion.

Mr. Rozsnyai came to the United States in 1961 and accepted the post of Assistant Conductor of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra under Leonard Bernstein.

Presently Mr. Rozsnyai is completing his seasons in New York and Ohio and will shortly conduct a modern Music Festival in Cleveland. This Cleveland Festival has previously been directed by George Szell.

Ford-Mobil Plan Smogless Motor

Ford Motor Company and Mobil Oil Corporation have announced plans for a cooperative research project aimed at early development of virtually emission-free, gasoline-powered vehicles.

The project will supplement long-established emission-control programs at both companies. It will continue for a least three years unless its goals are reached earlier.

An estimated $7 million will be spent over the term of the study, one of the largest joint research efforts undertaken by private industry. Provision is made so that others may participate in the project. All participants will have full access to and free use of results of the research for anti-pollution purposes.

Ford will serve as project manager in a "systems approach" study of a wide range of combinations of engine design and fuel. It is expected the study will lead to development of a fuel-engine system that will virtulally eliminate automotive emissions, with minimum cost to the consumer and minimal effect on car performance.

Father And Son Signal Stations Join Humble Oil

Two Lemon Grove service station dealers have officially oined the Enco branch of Humble Oil and Refining Company.

Ralph E. Warden, whose station is located at 1859 Englewood dr., and his son. Ted, who station is located at 1790 San Altos are two of 1,500 former Signal dealers who are now part of the national Enco organization.

Kuchel Proposes Redwood Nat. Park

U. S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel has introduced in Congress a new bill to create a Redwood National Park in northern California.

The bill, substantially the same as the measure he proposed last year and backed by the Administartion, would establish a reservation of 43,434 acres in Del Norte and Humboldt counties and would authorize Federal help for local government agencies in making economic adjustments during the development period.

The park would embrace California's Jedediah Smith and Del Norte Coast State Parks, perpetuate stands of what have been termed he finest specimans of the spectacular trees, and authorize expenditure of $60-million for land acquisition costs. The contemplated outlay for park development would be approximately $20-million.

In introducing the bill, which was referred to the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee where he is ranking Republican member, the Senior California Senator voiced hope continuing disagreements can be ironed out during future consideration of the proposed legislation. He noted the bill has been set for hearings before the Parks and Recreation Subcommittee on April 18.

Kuchel in remarks to the Senate discussed his priorities for solving the long-continued controversy about preserving virgin trees and declared his first concern is the public interest which he believes requires protection of a substantial acreage of primeval growth not presently in existing parks.

The San Diego Youth Symphony and the San Diego Honor Youth Chorale will be featured in the American Youth Performs concert "A Musical Night to Remember" Sunday, at 8 p.m., at the Civic Theatre.

Louis J. Campiglia is the conductor of the Youth Symphony and Miss Charlene Archibeque is the director of the Honor Youth Chorale.

Hardison's Telespanish

Words associated with the culture of Spanish-speaking countries are easy to associate with English. Take the word "Social" - for example. This word has the same spelling in Spanish as in English. The sound of the word is different in both languages. In English the word stress is on the first syllable and is pronounced "SO-shal." In Spanish the word stress is on the last syllable and is pronounced "soh-see-AHL."

Other look-alike words that have slight variation in either spelling or pronunciation are "economia (eh-kohn-noh-MEE-ah), Cultura (kool-TOO-rah), religion (reh-lee-hee-OHN), arte (AHR-teh), musica (MOO-see-kah), teatro (teh-AH-troh), y (ee) drama (DRAH-mah). Their respective English pronunciation and their word meaning should be easily determined from their look-alike similarity.

It is important to develop a facility for making short phrases wiht newly learned words. Taking two of the words in today's lesson we can say "Es una cultura social." (It is a social culture.. Or we may say "La musica es una arte." (Music is an art.).

Practice the following phrases. Read them over using the phonetic guide to help learn the pronunciation. Then dial 276-2762 on your home phone where you will hear the same phrases being said for your practice pleasure.

IMPORTANT PHRASES

Say "El arte representa la cultura." (EHL AHR-teh reh-preh-SEHN-tah lah kool-TOO-rah) for "Art represents the culture.' '
Say "Hay musica en el teatro." (AH-ee MOO-see-kah ehn ehl ech-AH-troh) for "There is music in the theater."

USEFUL PHRASES

Say "Cual religion es? (kool-AHL reh-lee-hee-OHN ehs) for "Which religion is it?"
Say "Es la religion de Mexico." (ehs la reh-lee-hee-OHN deh MEH-hee-koh) for "It is the religion of Mexico."

OTHER PHRASES

Say "Es una religion social?" (ehs OO-nah reh-lee-hee-OHN soh-see-AHL)
for "Is it a social religion?"
Say "No, es una economia." (noh ehs oon-nah eh-koh-noh-HEE-ah)
for "No, it is an economy."

Mussels Unsafe To Eat Says SD Public Health

The San Diego Department of Public Health announced that mussels along the entire California coastline are under State Department of Public Health quarantine from May 1 through October 31.

Dr. J. B. Askew, Director of the San Diego Departmen of Public Health, said this is the season of "the red tide," a colorful phenomenon that makes mussels unfit for human consumption.

He explained that during warm weather a tiny-orange-brown organism called Gonyaulax catanella multiplies by the billions in shallow coastal waters. It colors the sea red by day and makes it luminescent by night. Mussels feeding on it become toxic enough to kill anyone eating them.

Dr. Askew said public health santiarians are posting San Diego County's beaches from the Mexican border to San Onofre with quarantine signs. The signs also warn the public that clams should be cleaned and washed thoroughly before cooking.

Clams also feed on Gonyaulax catanella, Dr. Askew said. He added that if any poison from this organism is present in claims, it would be concentrated in the dark parts, which are then unsafe to eat.
